

Explore your college
course transfer options.

Check how college courses will count and where, on transferology.com.

I want to transfer courses to a new school.

Use the Will My Courses Transfer? feature.

→ Will My Courses Transfer?

Enter all the courses you've taken or are planning to take at your current school, then click Search for Matches. You'll see a list of schools with a match percentage that ranks which schools will give you credit for those courses.

I want to take a course somewhere else for credit at my current school.

Use the Find a Replacement Course feature.

↶ Find a Replacement Course

Looking to take a few classes at another school over the summer? Want to get some pre-requisites done elsewhere? Enter the course offered at your current school, then click Search for Matches. You'll see a list of schools that offer a course that your current school has said they will accept as a substitute.

I want to see how courses apply toward a specific program degree.

Use the Apply Courses to a Program feature.

📎 Apply Courses to a Program

Some schools allow you to see how courses apply toward a particular program, such as Nursing. After you've searched Will My Courses Transfer, select a school. In the school profile section, if the program feature is available, you'll see a button that says Apply Courses to a Program.

PRO TIPS

Click the Request Information button in a school profile to get more information from Advising, Admissions, Financial Aid, or to schedule a campus tour.

Use Filters to narrow results by distance from zip code, state, tuition, size, public or private, by your marked favorites, or even to one specific school.

Visit transferology.com and get your answers today!

Created by

