

Post-Graduate Certificate: Midwifery

The Post-Graduate Certificate (PGC): Midwifery program is designed for RNs who already hold a graduate degree (MSN, DNP, or PhD) in Nursing. The Midwifery Certificate includes the knowledge, skills, values, meanings, and experiences needed to educate new midwives in the full scope of the Midwifery Management Process. The program integrates independent, collaborative, consultative, and referral-based midwifery management within an interprofessional healthcare environment.

Graduates of this certificate program will be eligible to take the national certification examination given by the American Midwifery Certification Board (AMCB). Successful completion of this examination allows the practitioner to use the professional title, “Certified Nurse-Midwife.” The program can be completed in one year full time with summer courses. Cohorts are established annually in the Fall. Midwifery courses are offered on campus for two, four- or five-day intensives with the remainder of the course offered online. Students are encouraged to explore clinical site placement in their home communities and will be assisted by SU clinical site coordinators.
