

What is LBD?

Leadership by Design (LBD) is a 6-day residential summer program for rising high school seniors (between 11th and 12th grade), which aims to bring high school students from across the commonwealth of Virginia to learn about leadership, civility and public service. It furthers the commitment of Shenandoah University (SU) to prepare students to become active, informed citizen-leaders.

When and where is it?

LBD 2020 will be held from Sunday, June 21 through Friday, June 26. It is hosted on the main campus of SU in Winchester, VA. Students will stay in an on-campus residence hall, enjoy meals in the dining hall, and experience workshop sessions in the university's classrooms.

Why attend LBD?

Leadership by Design furthers SU's commitment to preparing students to become active, informed citizen-leaders.

I wish I could come back next year and do it all again! This week really brought me out of my shell in terms of public speaking and meeting new people.

Activities include:

- Working with SU faculty
- Hands-on service at a local nonprofit organization
- Meeting and discussions with community leaders
- Door-to-door canvassing
- Peer-bonding field trips

How much does it cost?

While participation in LBD is valued to be greater than $600, the total cost to the student will be $150.
